Hide-a-Stone

I wanted something to disguise my floodlights and fog machine in my yard in 2008. After researching the web, I discovered several sites that sold “high end” tombstones for such a task. On a tight budget...I figured I could make something equal in style and function. So off to my Witch’s Den.... I went to recreate my own “much cheaper” version.

I call it Hide~a~Stone. Hope this inspires you to create your own version to use in your Huant.

I used 2x2 boards for the base.

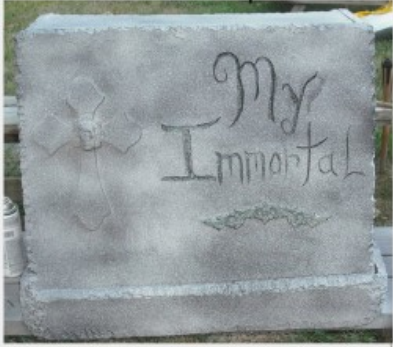

Used Bamboo Skewers for added support
