THE CEILING CRAWLER

Nightcrawler

Here is how he started out, a pvc pipe frame dressed in a jumpsuit and placed on the roof, creepy, but not SCARY.

So I decided to modify him...

I took the original PVC Pipe frame that was cut out in the shape of a man crawling and duct-taped newspaper to the torso, (to make it seem bulkier than a skeleton the duct-tape is the red stripes you see in the pics) and I permanently attached a styrofoam wig head to the neck. I then used "Great Stuff" expanding insulation foam around it. After the foam had dried I used a oil based spray paint (so the paint wouldn't run in the rain...)

And I also changed his mask, because the previous mask made it look like he was licking the roof... (LOL!)

Also pictured is my one and only female volunteer... Megghan.

Here he is after his paint job.

This is how he will look mounted on the ceiling.

Total cost -> Under $30 !!!
