

TOMBSTONES

<http://www.peopleconnectionblog.com/hometown>

We have been a Home Haunter for over six years and most of the haunt has been concentrated in the basement. I decided this year to really go all out on the outside.

What's a haunt without a cemetery? First thing I did was go to the Mark's Monster

List and check out the 'How to' on tombstone making. I found Keeba's site and Casa de Sade the most extensive step by step tutorial in creating tombstones from blue foam. Including sizes, warping and aging. I do have to mention I did receive

ALOT of help and inspiration from the Halloween-J list. Here are some pics of the end results. You can click on each pic for a closer look.

Obtained from
Omarshauntedtrail.com

Obtained from
Omarshauntedtrail.com

There will be a total of nine tombstones in a 6' x 18' graveyard including an iron fence from pvc and post from blue foam. I am also working on a pillar idea that I would like to premier for 2003.

BEFORE

AFTER

Obtained from Omarshauntedtrail.com